

Waterloo Region Child &
Youth Advocacy Centre
Community Campaign

Pledge Form

Children and youth in our community are being sexually and physically abused every day. We have been working collaboratively with partners in our community to create a better and more child-friendly response for these young people and their families. Our Safe Hands – Strong Futures campaign to raise a minimum of $2 million will help to transform how we support children and youth affected by physical or sexual abuse and their families. This campaign will enable us to establish and sustain the new Waterloo Region Child and Youth Advocacy Centre, and support the ongoing work of the Child Witness Program, ensuring strong support of these victims and witnesses and their families for many years to come.

Let's join hands to create hope and empower our kids!
